

Northern Lights Laser Park Frequently Asked Questions

- What should I bring?
Bring sunscreen, insect repellent, snacks and beverages. We will have a water cooler with cups complementary.
- Can we bring our own food?
We have no problem with you bringing your own food and drink. We simply ask that you please clean up after yourselves.
- What do I wear?
We strongly encourage durable, long legged pants or clothing. Due to the nature of the sport, our players tend to slide, crawl, jump and hide in all types of terrain and conditions. We ask that players wear close- toed shoes or boots when playing. Definitely wear camouflage clothing if you have it!
Full Throttle Entertainment reserves the right to deny anyone from participating in an event if their attire is not suitable for playing conditions.
- What type of payment do you accept?
We accept cash, local check, Visa and MasterCard.
- Do you require a deposit?
Reservations for Birthday parties or large groups (10 or more) require a deposit. Go to "Birthday parties" for further details.
- What is your cancellation policy?
You may cancel with a minimum of one week notice for a full refund of your deposit. We ask that you let us know as soon as possible if your plans change so we can attempt to reassign the time to another family, ect. If we cannot reassign your time, a $50.00 cancellation fee will apply.
- What if it rains?
Generally reservations can be honored with light rain or snow. We do not play during thunderstorms and heavy rain. If that happens during your scheduled time, you can try to reschedule or we can refund your deposit.
- What will I experience at Northern Lights Laser Tag Park?
You will experience an incredible time! You will be one with Mother Nature as you play in the peace and quiet of the forest on stealth missions. You will utilize the trees, the trails and an abundance of bunkers throughout the park. You will feel intense camaraderie with the members on your team as you work together to complete your missions. Absolute fun!

- Will you bring Northern Lights Laser Tag to my location?
 Absolutely! Since there are no projectiles, Outdoor Laser tag is safe to play anywhere, anytime. No mess! No welts! No cracked windows... Perfect!
- What is included when you come to my location?
 We will provide your desired amount of Taggers, we will set up an inflatable obstacle field and the price includes travel fees within 40 miles of our location. We recommend that you have water and snacks available at the field location.
- Is there a lot of gear to put on?
 Absolutely not! We receive a lot of positive feedback on this subject. Players feel unencumbered and free during missions. You will receive a velcro headband with 3 sensors and your tagger to hold with unlimited ammo, there is also one sensor on the tagger which prevents cheating. That's it!
- Do you use real lasers?
 Absolutely not. Fire tag uses harmless infrared light to emit its signal back and forth between taggers. We use the same infrared emitters used in 90 percent of all remote controls. So, fire tag is completely safe and harmless.
- How does the equipment work?
 The equipment uses harmless infrared light to emit a coded signal (beam) that is picked up by three head sensors and goes through the onboard computer to register a hit on the taggers.
- How do I "hit" someone?
 Every tagger has its own high-tech tactical scope. Our taggers have a 40mm red dot scope with a red in the middle for sighting. Our long- range taggers have powerful tactical telescopic scopes that make it really easy to hit people at a distance.
- How do I get eliminated from play?
 We have several different types of games played on the field. Unlike paintball players can be hit multiple times and still play in the game. We call them hit points. Each time your tagger is hit you lose a point. The hit points range from one to 99, so games can last as short or long as we choose. We want people to play and have fun. No one likes to be on the sideline sitting out.
- How can I tell if I have been hit?
 The hit lights on the tagger blink several times, and the tagger screams "ouch" while displaying a hit on your tagger's LED/LCD.

- What happens when I have lost all my hit points?
 The tagger then goes into deactivation mode (DEAC), in which the tagger's hit light stays on signifying the player is out of the game. Also, the unit screams "Medic, Medic! Man down, Man down!" This tells the team medic that you need to be reactivated or out of the game.
- How many people can play?
 The more players, the more intense the game. We recommend at least six players for an outing or game but it really cranks up with ten or more people. No matter how many players, the game is always fun!
- How is fire tag different from indoor laser tag?
 Although we love indoor laser tag, our game is completely different in play and strategy. Indoor laser tag is geared more for the 6-14 year age range. Indoor laser tag is usually played in a small, confined black light facility with lots of music and pulsating light. Fire tag is played in much bigger areas in more of a tactical Halo, Ghost Recon setting. Our taggers have much more range and actual scopes that allow players to aim at their target. Our game is played by sneak and hide, straight out assault or tactics. Play is more team based and objective driven than indoor tag, which is geared more towards individual players.
- Do the taggers make noise?
 Yes. Each tagger has both SCI-FI noises and real modern day military sounds. Every time you shoot, reload, get hit or reactivate the tagger, it speaks to you. Incredible!
- What is a typical type of mission?
 The typical mission is objective based like you see in many of the action movies. For example, a scenario might play out like this: the other team has captured one of your players and you need to rescue him/her. You might need to battle to a specific point and recapture your player or eliminate the opposing team to win the scenario. Either way every player is throwing a lot of light at the other team. It's the ultimate rush!
- Do you have different types of missions?
 Yes, we have over 20 different types of missions to play. They range from Rescue to Escort to simple elimination runs.
- How long does a typical game last?
 Since we use light instead of consumable ammo, we can get games started in seconds rather than minutes. This makes for a rapid and fun play style and environment. Games can last anywhere from 10 minutes on up. It depends on a variety of factors; experience level, number of players, length of stay and weather. Typically we run 3 or 4 missions an hour.
